Competition Law and Policy in the EU and UK

BARRY J RODGER and ANGUS MACCULLOCH

Competition Law and Policy in the EU and UK provides a focused guide to the main provisions and policies at issue in the EU and UK, including topics such as enforcement, abuse of dominance, anti-competitive agreements, cartels, mergers, and market investigations.

The book’s contents are tailored to cover all major topics in competition law teaching, and the authors’ clear and accessible writing style offers an engaging and easy to follow overview of the subject for course use. The fifth edition provides a full update for this well-established title, presenting and contextualising the impact of key cases, as well as changes to enforcement practice, and at a legislative and institutional level. There are new, separate chapters in this edition on private enforcement and UK market investigations to reflect the increasing significance of these key areas of competition law practice.

Competition Law and Policy in the EU and UK integrates useful pedagogical features to help clarify topics and reinforce important points:

- chapter overviews and summaries highlight the key points to take away from each chapter to structure student learning
- discussion questions facilitate self-testing and seminar discussions of the major issues covered in each chapter, to help reinforce understanding of these topics
- further reading lists additional resources in order to guide research and develop subject knowledge
- a new glossary provides succinct explanations of competition law terminology, ideal for those studying the topic for the first time

Clear, focused and student-friendly, this title offers a comprehensive resource for students taking competition law courses, and is supported online by updates to the law offered on Angus MacCulloch’s blog, Who’s Competing: whoscompeting.wordpress.com

Reviews

“Competition Law and Policy in the EU and UK is a ‘must read’ for any student at any level studying competition law on either EU or UK level. Each chapter provides a helpful overview in the beginning and finishes with a summary of key points, a discussion of relevant questions and a list of further reading. This is extremely helpful.’

Dr. Liza Lovdahl Gormsen, Senior Lecturer in Law, Manchester University, UK

“This is an excellent resource for any student taking competition law at both undergraduate and postgraduate level in the EU and the UK. The text is extremely comprehensive covering all of the most interesting and challenging aspects of the competition law syllabus from policy objectives, cartels, abuse of dominance, and mergers to include both public and private enforcement of competition law, as well as details of market investigations.’

Dr Anca Chirita, Lecturer in Competition Law, Durham Law School, Durham University, UK

“The 5th edition continues to be a useful, wide-ranging and comprehensive undergraduate textbook. This is the only accessible textbook for Competition Law Modules covering national and EU competition law and provides a clear explanation of the theory behind the substantive law.

Professor Erika Szyszczak, University of Sussex, UK

[The authors] have a keen eye for pedagogical developments, now providing the helpful discussion questions and summaries, and updating via the MacCulloch blog. …What we find here is an accurate, reliable, up-to-date and accessible account of the essentials of the subject, which will certainly serve very well the needs of students and more general readers, and provides a sure route into a challenging field of legal discussion.’

Professor Chris Harding, Aberystwyth University, UK
